

Show Solidarity with Workers Under Attack—Buy a Button or Pin

by James Parks , Apr 12, 2011

The struggle to save the nation's middle class from the assaults of Republican governors and legislators continues to grow as more and more people realize that strong unions provide a counterbalance to runaway corporate power.

You can show your support of those who are on the frontlines of the struggle by purchasing “We Are One” buttons and lapel pins or a “Stand With Wisconsin” tee. When someone asks what the message means, you can tell them you're standing in solidarity with millions of working people from every walk of life for the right to bargain collectively for good, middle-class jobs.
